FINANCE AND TRADE. OUR REVIEW of the cotton market ast week reported middling cotton in New Yook at 12je; it declined next day to 12 13-16c on Monday to 12] . New Orleans was quo ed 121c, and has so remained for two and a half weeks. Liverpool quoted 6 5 16d, which on Wednesday fell to 614 and on Thursday to 6-3 16d. Memphis quoted 12c, and has remained a that figure all week. This statement shows a decline during the week of it in New York and I in verse circumstances. Mardi-Gras he same. Middling cotton and above old their prices, with some firmness; selling down to 53 Ellison & Co.'s Livrpool Annual Review, recently published, afterspeaking of influences that were so disastrons to busines, in England last year, the effects of which the cott n narket felt heavily, remarks those influences are still producing results adverse to the prosperity of that trade, and coatinues: "Some day a great change will come, but when, it is im-possible to say. So far as cot-ton is concerned, all that we have to say for the present is, that prices are below the average cost of production; that consequently, sooner or later, a suarp reaction must come; and, thereore, that spinners and manufacturers will get wisely in not risking much in the form of uncovered contracts for the forward delivery of yarns and goods. uplands was 71d, but so low a figure would not have been witnessed if it had not been for the discredit and disorganiseen political or financial occurrence takes place, we shall be surpri ed if the average price for 1876 is not much high-er than the figure now current." Watts & Co.'s excellent Liverpool Cotton Reportrays the demoralization in the marwas as great as they ever known it to be, indorses the following, copied

THE PINANCIAL SITUATION Offers no essential not only as compared with last week, but with very many weeks be-fore. Money is in plenty. It does not pay for keeping, yet it is kept and not invested, and there is consequently still a plethora on the market, for borrowers are few and their wents small. There are plenty of people that want money, but those are the people that cannot get it When a man is wealthy enough to want nothing, there is not a bank in town that will not rejoice to take his paper The bank discount rate is the usual 10 per cen!. The banks have complained of dullness all week; yesterday their principal occupation was to pay out checks. Exchange is in reduced offer-ing, as may be expected from the heaviness of the cotton market. The light call for it prevents inconvenience, but the banks would much like to have a better supply. Our stock of cotton has been below that at the same time last year all the season until now; it was yesterday 69 000 bales, against 57,800 on the last day of last February. This is a circumstance that, if it continue to execution of Rock Island and Eric. ist, will show some effect on the local monetary condition. Rates of exchange are now + discount on all directions for sight. | more where grace is demanded; checking at the counter on east, north and south at par. Gold has been higher this week than for sometime, but it has not continued steadily rising as some expected, neither has it touched 115. The rate in Wal! street at noon yesterday was 114; there has been inquiry at our brokers during the last two or three days for more than is usually wanted. The supply is small, and 1134 was offerd for it. Scrips are quiet, only a rout ne troker's business doing at our quo-tations. State comptroller's warrants see strong, and the outside figures—961 buying, and 98 selling—are the prevalent rates. Some Charleston stock changed hands at 7, that and some small transtates. Some Charleston stock changed hands at 7, that and some small transactions in issurance stocks was all that transpired.
